Castor Bean Quandary For City Council!

While the United Steelworkers Union was carrying its battle against the Taft-Hartley law to the United States Supreme Court Tuesday night, Oct. 27, constitutionality of this city's castor bean ordinance was seriously challenged.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dickson of 744 E. Ninth St. received tacit approval of Upland City Council to maintain their gopher-killing castor bean plant while the city fathers mulled over the matter before issuing a mandate at next regular session of the council Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Comparable Decision

It was a decision comparable to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals allowing the steel strike to continue for six more days despite upholding the T-H injunction ordering the strike to end.

Mr. Dickson explained to the council that they had knowingly planted the castor bean in their back yard to keep depredations of gophers down.

"To keep it from being a hazard," Mr. Dickson said, "we prune the branches and burn the poison berries." He requested an amendment to the ordinance which insists on elimination of all castor bean plants as a poisonous shrub which may endanger youngsters if they eat the berries.

"Give us permission to have the shrub on our premises for gopher control and shade providing we see that the poison berries are kept removed," pleaded the Dicksons.

Flexibility Sought

Mrs. Dickson pointed out laws could not control every type of public liability which might endanger children, and therefore such a law covering specifics should be flexible.

It was pointed out that in case of amending the castor

Congressman Gives Views

Every dollar taken from San Bernardino County in the form of taxation by the Federal Government and then returned in the form of federal aid loses better than 30 per cent in the transition.

This was point made by Representative Harry R. Sheppard (D-Yucaipa) during appearance before Upland College assembly Friday morning, Oct. 23.

It was his answer to a question put from the audience by Mayor Abner Haldeman of Upland as to his feeling on "home rule."

Home Rule Need

Replied the congressman, defined by Upland College President John Z. Martin as "the dean of California's congressional delegation as our servant in Washington, D.C. for 24 years":

"I think any state or subdivision therein should definitely handle its own affairs. It is an obligation to be capable of so doing. It is to my regret that much of the country has developed a belief that Washington is a perpetual Christmas tree. This is an unfortunate philosophy."

After revealing the 30 per cent lost per dollar in the transition from county to federal government to county again, Rep. Sheppard added:

"That's not good economy. We need more self initiative.'

The congressman asked Mayor Haldeman: "Does that answer your question"

"Very well indeed," the Upland mayor replied.

Other Answers

In answer to other questions asked by the college students themselves, Rep. Sheppard said:

—It is not feasible to balance the national budget at this time.

—There is no method of preventing a person from taking refuge behind the Fifth Amendment, which is every Americans constitutional right, unless that person makes a statement which raises question of his integrity.

—We must always take care of our own needy to the degree they should be taken care of, without going past the point that causes disintegration. But there are also military and humanitarian reasons for taking care of foreign countries which must also be considered for the national welfare.

—I favor reinactivation of the GI Bill of Rights.

—The Taft - Hartley law was written in the depths of emoion. I voted against it. I do not believe it is legally nor honestly workable.

Constitutional Law ..

—If a law is unconstitutional, it should be eliminated. If it is constitutional, then we must live up to it whether we like it or not. This is equal justice under the law. Start breaking down the law of the land, and that is the way to lose our form of government.

—The recent cut in foreign aid to India was justified because its present government is extremely unfriendly to us. It is not stable. Surveys have shown the United States is getting very little benefit from aid extended in that direction.

—Get every bit of education you can get. It is a contribution to the national welfare. You must decide what you are interested in —jallopies or education. Take advantage of the education available to you from local sources. Education is a blueprint of procedures to follow in life.

Space Age

Arrival of the space age into Congressional considerations was recalled for students at Upland College by Rep. Harry R. Sheppard (D-Yucaipa) during an assembly appearance Friday morning, Oct. 23.

The congressman's "exposure to Washington's panorama of politics" over a 24-year period has included service in the House of Representatives on the Appropriations and Armed Services committees.

He told of a requested appropriation for $75,000 which was turned down as a "Buck Rogers' item. When he investigated the item, he found out it was for research on electrical impulses which were then projecting 13 miles and identifying objects. This was the inception of radar.

Recently $17 million have been appropriated to further these same electrical impulses in another project — this time to bounce them off the moon for deflection to any specified place in the world so that we can tell what's going on there!

Adult Education Hearing Nov. 18

Persons who have objections to express or questions to ask regarding announced intent of Chaffey College District to discontinue its Adult Education program July 1, 1960 will get their chance at a public hearing on the matter Nov. 18.

College President Daniel Milliken said final decision will be made by the board of trustees following the public hearing at regular meeting of the board that night.

Logical Province

Since majority of the adult education courses are for high school credits, Dr. Milliken expressed belief such courses fell more logically under the Chaffey Union High School District's province.

He said the college district had been handling the adult program as a public service and to assist the high school district. "But we decided that with our impending 'divorce' from the high school district when we move to the Alta Loma campus after first of the year, this was the time for the change."

Personal Belief

Supt. Allan Smith of the high school district has expressed his personal belief that the high school should set up its own adult program. He said at Monday night's session of the Chaffey District Planning Committee, "We should adopt a pay-as-we-go night school program. The district does have a responsibility, I feel."

Dr. Milliken pointed out there would be no penalty at all for adults who wished to earn college credits at Chaffey College. "Adults can enroll for credit in any Chaffey College course they wish. We will continue evening classes as well as day classes on the new Alta Loma campus."

Approximately 800 persons are enrolled in the current Chaffey College adult course. "This is ample evidence that there is community interest and community need for such a program," Dr. Milliken said.

Trustee Robert A. Wallace asked if this move would eliminate college duplication of courses now being offered by Fontana High School. Dr. Milliken replied that one of the objectives of the proposal was elimination of such duplication. Trustee Arvel Smith indicated he favored elimination of courses not in keeping with a college program.

In a letter to the board, Dr. Clarence C. Calhoun, Associate dean of instruction, surveyed the problem and recommended a five point program which included:

—That the college serve notice of intent to cease offering courses which serve only the Chaffey Union High School District after July 1, 1960.

—That the Chaffey Union High School District be encouraged to operate its own adult education program.

—That the college continue to offer on the Alta Loma campus certain non - credit wide appeal and / or for courses which have district which the college is specially equipped.

PREP DISTRICT SEEKS 23 CENT RISE IN TAX

In order to purchase the Chaffey College facilities on the Ontario campus, Chaffey Union High School District plans to seek a 23 cent increase in its present tax rate for a five year period at a Feb. 16 election.

Prep district administrators and the board of trustees received a vote of confidence at a meeting of the Chaffey District Planning Committee in Homemaking Auditorium on the Chaffey campus, Monday night, Oct. 26.

Present Tax Rate

The present tax rate of $1.47 for a three-year period was recommended by the planning committee and approved by the voters. That tax rate ends June 30, 1960.

As the district has done with the present maximum tax rate, the new requested maximum will not be used unless the district needs it.

"We hope our past record has proved," Supt. Allan Smith told the committee Monday, "that we will not levy more than is absolutely necessary."

Projected figures presented the committee by Supt. Smith shows the district plans to collect $1.63 maximum in 1960-61, $1.68 in 61-62 and then $1.70 the last three years if the voters approve the increase.

This will enable the district to purchase the college facilities on basis of a non-interest lease - purchase agreement over a 15-year period with payments of approximately $92,000 each year and also maintain the cash balance of approximately $500,000 the district considers necessary for a healthly financial climate.

Appraised value of the college facilities which the high school plans to buy has been set at $1,392,284.50. It has been officially approved by the college board of trustees and tentatively okayed by the prep board.

Room For 930

Supt. Smith reported that with alterations amounting to less than $10,000, the high school district can take the college buildings over to handle 930 additional students on the Chaffey campus at a per student cost of $1496. Per student cost at Upland High School was $2068 and at Montclair High School $2136.

Amount of the proposed increase of 23 cents which would go toward purchase of the college facilities will be 7 cents, Supt. Smith said.

New School In '64

With the college facilities Supt. Smith said, "This will carry the district to 1964-65 and a total district enrollment of 7400 students before we would need a new high school or have to make boundary shifts. Then it might be wise to have another UCLA study to make suggestions where the fourth high school should be built and when."

Supt. Smith said the Feb. 16 date would give the district time to call for another tax election should the first one fail.

Should the voters fail to approve the requested increase in time for the 1960-61 budget, the district would have to figure out how to struggle along in depression style on a 75 cent tax rate, the minimum provided by law.

One Woman's Campaign

Housewife Fights Reds

When Mrs. William Magnusson of 775 Tulare Way, Upland, decides something is good, she goes all out to convince others of its worth.

Even if she's just about to enter San Antonio Community Hospital for surgery and a 10-day stay as she did Sunday, Oct. 25.

Occidental College's Magazines for Friendship Inc. is the something Mrs. Magnusson recently decided was very good for patriotic Americans.

Here's The Idea

The idea is you mail magazines you have finished reading to persons in foreign countries as a method of combatting communist propaganda.

The idea appealed to Mr. and Mrs. Magnusson for several reasons:

1. Reaction to Khruschev's visit to the United States.

2. Meeting Prof. Albert Croissant of Occidental who launched the non-profit, tax deductible Magazines for Friendship campaign.

3. Mrs. Magnusson's personal "hate" of throwing away perfectly good magazines.

4. It's patriotic, a method of fighting communism and, as Mrs. Magnusson puts it, "It makes us feel good.'

Starts At Home

Convinced of value of the program from her own participation in it, Mrs. Magnusson decided it was important enough to interest others in. Faced with that hospital sojourn, the comely housewife decided she had better get busy.

She started with her own relatives, interesting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Magnusson of Pomona, and her sister, Mrs. Allan Paterson of San Francisco. Her sister is a nurse to two surgeons who have many medical magazines. Mrs. Magnusson gave her some 40 names of foreign doctors who could use such magazines. Since her sister is also a French student, she plans to exchange magazines with people in France.

Then Mrs. Magnusson warmed to her task. She contacted Upland High School, Chaffey College and Baldy View School. Result: The high school expressed interest in the project for its language classes, Leonard Mather at Chaffey College ran off lists of individual addresses in foreign countries for use in magazine exchange by the International Relations Club and language department and printed information on the Magazines for Friendship was left in Baldy View School's teachers' room.

Project Passed On

An interested teacher there promised to pass the project on to Upland College and the young people's international group there.

"I believe the churches of Upland would be interested in this magazine exchange plan because devotional material is greatly needed among foreign peoples," Mrs. Magnusson said.

Prof. Croissant has informed Mrs. Magnusson that 300,000 medical doctors abroad have personally written him requesting medical journals from this country. All types of foreign professional men have also requested magazines from the United States in their particular fields.

"And children should not be overlooked," declares Mrs. Magnusson. Our children's magazines — Boys and Girls Life, Humpty Dumpty —can also be sent to foreign children overseas. This can be a family project."

The value of these magazines in the hands of foreign peoples

"They show democracy in action," Mrs. Magnusson says intensely. "Our Good Housekeeping, Times, Trues —they give a picture of the United States as it really is in rebuttal to the flood of magazines full of propaganda distributed abroad by the communists."

INTENSE IN HER interest in a project of combatting communism by mailing American magazines abroad is Mrs. William Magnusson of 775 Tulare Way, Upland. She launched a campaign to interest local persons, schools and organizations despite facing a 10-day sojourn in the hospital which started Sunday.—NEWS Photo

Book Trees Grow For Children's Book Week

Upland Chapter of Library Club of America will furnish a novel feature at Upland Public Library for observance of Children's Book Week, Nov. 1-7, according to Mrs. A.N. Correll, children's librarian.

Four book trees are being prepared which will be on display beginning Mon. Nov. 2. Book trees are a new type of tree. They are no related to shoe trees nor roof trees but they closely resemble Christmas trees because each leaf tells a story which would be good on Christmas or any other day.

The club has formed four committees each of which will dress a tree with leaves containing short book reviews written by boys and girls of the club.

The tree for first and second grade readers will be set up under direction of Kit Cameron. Janice Parker heads the committee for third and fourth graders. Kathy Kermer for fifth and sixth grades, and Sharon Lee Smith for junior high school people.

The general public is urged to visit the children's and young people's room at Upland Public Library during book week.

Planners Apply Bromo For Record Of Survey Headache

Records of surveys, required when a lot is divided, have proven such a headache for city planners and engineers that Upland City Planning Commission last week attempted to administer a bromo to the whole situation.

Planner Jack Smith moved and the commission unanimously approved that the city not accept any further records of surveys except from the seller or unless the records of surveys are accompanied by a cover letter from the seller.

The move was made after a lengthy debate, one of many during the last six months, over a record of survey submitted by F.T. Livermore of Claremont. Four lots at the corner of 11th Ave. and Foothill Blvd. have been sold without a record of survey, he reported, and he and his wife owned two of the lots. He wanted to handle the record of survey himself without becoming involved in a law suit against the former owner.

After Planner Daniel Maher declared, "Somebody should be prosecuted," and City Atty. Henry Busch indicated he was willing to do so, the commission decided to approve the record of survey, informing city council that improvements on 11th St. should be made or bonded and requesting the waiving of immediate dedication of the Foothill Blvd. service road.

In other business, the planners:

Turned down two zone changes. The first was from A.T. Crevolin for multiple from single residential on the north side of 11th St. between Quince and Laurel Ave. on 10 acres of land east of the high school. An opposing petition bearing 29 sets of names from property owners in the area was presented by Tom Maxfield. Due to general opposition of the residents and the amount of multi-residential land in Upland, the rezoning was denied. A zone change requested by S.H. Ashton near Foothill and Euclid from commercial to multiple housing was also rejected.

Denied a conditional use permit for a private swimming club at Foothill Blvd. near San Antonio Ave. as not being compatible with a citrus area. Vote was 4-2 with one commissioner abstaining.

Okay House Move

Determined that Philip Schneeberger could move a Gold Medallion Home from the Los Angeles County Fair grounds into Upland if all building requirements were met.

Approved a 25-unit apartment house at southeast corner of Campus and Mesa Ct. submitted by Homer Saunders representing Upland Investment Co.

Ordered a lot transition study of the entire northwest area from 20,000 sq. ft. lots to 15,000 with report back scheduled at next meeting, Nov. 19, after requesting Mike Kelber to withdraw a tentative tract map in vicinity of Euclid Ave. and 16th St. which attempted to make the transition.

Approved site plan for Foothill Knolls, the Medco shopping center at Alta Ave. and Foothill Blvd.

Set Nov. 19 as hearing date on a zone change initiated by the planning commission from manufacturing to commercial at northwest corner of Euclid Ave. and the Santa Fe Railroad tracks.

Set adjourned meetings of the commission for Nov. 19 and Dec. 17 to avoid conflict with Thanksgiving and Christmas.

CHAFFEY COLLEGE band includes a number of Uplanders as it prepares for a busy fall season including a tour with the basketball team to Arizona. Here it practices under direction of Prof. William Blanchard.

bean law, the problem arose of inspection by a city official to see that all retained castor bean plants were properly trimmed.

City Atty. Henry Busch noted that in view of the ordinance, city liability as well as increased liability by the land owner arose if exceptions should be made. "It may be an hysteria type ordinance," he agreed. "It's a matter of repealing it or enforcement."

How About Gophers

Inquired Councilman John Nicholson of the Dicksons: "What did the plant do to the gophers"

"We haven't had any trouble since," replied Mr. Dickson.

"If the gophers come back, well chop it down," offered Mrs. Dickson.

"There are other types of poisonous shrubs in the city with no ordinances against them," said Councilman Jarvis Leman.

Offered Mrs. Dickson: "Let us harbor our public nuisance for another week while you consider the matter."

The council agreed to a decision next Tuesday night.

In other business:

With approval of a fund raising campaign here during November for the Muscular Dystrophy Assn., councilmen indicated possibility of throwing the city's weight behind one charity fund raising drive under United Fund. "When too many drives occur, it defeats purpose of the United Fund," one councilman remarked.

New Police Units

Purchase of five new units for Upland Police Dept. at $6873.15, a sedan for the city manager at $1970.80, a chassis for trash collection at $4457 and a packer at $4867, all from Skycrest Ford, was authorized. The five police units includes a car for the business license officer. Delivery was to be in 30 days.

Upland Shopping Center Inc. received approval on request to install steel posts at specified intersections for Christmas decorations. The city will install the five poles and be reimbursed by the merchants' group.

We Wondered

The councilmen learned that the city's customer service man is actually a meter reader for the water department.

A resolution was adopted covering regulations and types of tree plantings in the city's commercial zones as presented by the Tree Committee under Councilman Nicholson. A suggestion that the ordinance require tree plantings in all commercial zones except C-4 on Foothill east of Euclid Ave. and west of Benson was rejected in favor of the committee's recommended wording: "Whenever new trees are planted in areas zoned for commercial...." Councilman Nicholson noted that Lyle Stewart of City Planning Consultant Simon Eisner's office had recommended that commercial tree installations be only with consent of the merchants involved, at expense of the merchants, and with the city serving only to obtain uniformity.

House Relocation

Arrangements were made so that Glen A. McCrea could move a two-story house from Arrow Hwy. near Euclid to a lot on Garnet Way instead of one on Vernon Dr. Mr. McCrea had City Planning Commission approval for the move to Vernon Dr. but not Garnet Way. The relocation was subject to the planning body's approval.

F.T. Livermore's request was granted for record of survey approval on four lots at Foothill Blvd. and 11th Ave., subject to service road improvements at time of development and posting of bond for paving the west half of 11th Ave.

Upland's First Methodist Church Youth Division's plan was approved for UNICEF trick or treat program Halloween from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

The Disabled American Veterans were authorized to sell "Forget-me-nots" on city streets Nov. 6-7.

Rezoning of four lots at northeast corner of Second Ave. and Olive St. was approved from single residential to multiple as requested by Alice M. Goff.

United Bench Advertisers' request was denied to place advertising benches at Upland street intersections.

Former Uplanders Hit With Pies In Laguna

Former Uplander Mrs. W. E. Benton has become famous in Laguna Beach where for the past 25 years she has been owner and chief pie-maker for her popular restaurant. Until his death in 1957, her husband managed the restaurant and since then son Charles has been manager.

Mrs. Benton, who 30 years ago lived at Arrow Hwy. and 9th Ave., continues to bake her now-famous pies for the restaurant's clientele which have included such notables as James Cagney and Thelma Todd.

Starting as a doughnut store, the business soon took on aspects of a small restaurant when friends and passers-by stopped for coffee and pie as well as doughnuts.

Now in a large modern restaurant, the staff has grown from the original two to 15 members.

The Bentons made other contributions to Laguna Beach besides good food, however. Mrs. Benton is an accomplished concert pianist, and Mr. Benton, a talented artist, was recognized as the poet laureate of Laguna Beach.

Besides many friends still living in the Upland area, a son, Paul Benton lives in Upland with his wife at 971 E. Arrow Hwy. He has owned and operated a service station here for the past 26 years. Others members of the family include Dean, in Houston, Texas; Bill, in Delaware; Mrs. Lucile Plaven of Redlands, and Enid Benton Corley of Baldwin Hills.

Chaffey College plans to move its president's and comptroller's offices to the new Alta Loma campus the first week in November.

President Daniel B. Milliken has informed the board of trustees that a one-day movement of everything else from the Ontario campus to the new location is in the planning stage.

If feasible, this feat will be accomplished shortly after first of the year.

In that case, a herd of vans would move chairs, desks, general classroom items and office equipment.

ROXANNE ALTIERI
New Theatre Manager

New manager for the Grove Theatre is Roxanne Altieri of Upland.

She was named to the position by J.B. Omohundro, new owner of the Grove.

Mrs. Altieri is wife of Sully Altieri, Grove manager for the past two years until the recent sale.

Mrs. Altieri, formerly manager of Colorado Theater, Pasadena, had worked closely with her husband in management of the Grove.

"The children still are supervised during Saturday afternoon kiddie shows and the show always is under strict control," she added.

Shopping Bag, Von's Merger Is On Tap

• Plans for merger of Shopping Bag Food Stores and Von's Grocery Co. will be submitted to their boards of directors for approval within 10 days.

Although both companies operate in Southern California, it was pointed out by spokesmen that they are not competitive, because of location in different locales.

Shopping Bag is operating 38 supermarkets including the one in Upland, Von's 27.

If the merger is approved, the Von's Grocery Co. name will be retained for combined operations. The Upland store would retain it's Shopping Bag designation along with others in existence, but as new supermarkets are built, they will bear the name, Von's.

It is planned that at least 11 new supermarkets will be added to the combined chain by the end of 1960. If the merger is approved, there will be an exchange of stock on a share per share basis. All executive and administrative personnel of both companies will be retained.

Shopping Bag Food Stores started in 1930 as a grocery department in a small Los Angeles store. In 1933 it opened its first supermarket. In 1954 it became a publicly owned company. Von's started in 1932 in Lynwood. It's first supermarket opened in 1934. It became publicly owned in 1958.

The combined sales of both companies are currently running at the rate of $198 million annually.

Thomas Edwards, seaman, USN, son of Mrs. Bertie L. Putman of 2427 W. Euclid Ave., Upland, departed Long Beach Oct. 15, aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Dennis J. Primarily a radar early warning vessel, the Buckley is scheduled to participate in various operational exercises and will make recreational visits to Japan, Hong Kong, and the Philippines.

Huge Citrus Fruit Push Plot Of Sunkist Growers

The board of directors of Sunkist Growers has voted an advertising assessment of more than $3½ million to advertise and promote their fresh oranges and lemons during the 1959-60 season which begins Nov. 1. This budget does not include funds for advertising fresh grapefruit of any of the Sunkist line of industrial and consumer citrus products. Details on that will be announced at a later date.

This fresh fruit advertising budget is based on an assessment of 9½¢ per carton for lemons and 6¢ per carton for both navel and valencia oranges. The budget contains provision for the operating expenses of the Sunkist Merchandising Division which totals 48 men stationed in the principal markets of the United States and Canada.

The advertising of fresh lemons during the coming season is to follow a new approach, that of suggesting lemons as a table condiment for use with many types of food.

The advertising budget for the 1959-60 season is predicated on an estimated shipment of 15,000 cars of packed Sunkist lemons 19,000 cars of navel oranges and 22,000 cars of valencia oranges.

Red Hill Exclusion Sought

They will be considered when hearing on boundaries of the City of Red Hill is held at 11 a.m. Nov. 16 — unless another postponement is granted.

Seeking exclusion from the proposed city are Esther E. Nelssen, owner of Red Chief Motel; Verne C. and Gertrude D. Hinrichsen, owners of Sycamore Inn; Norman G. Hixson, manager of Cucamonga County Water District, for property owner by the district.

Harold B. Blatz, Red Hill resident and a leader for incorporation studies conducted for Cucamonga, also applied for exclusion. He withdrew when informed only property along perimeter of the proposed incorporation could be eliminated.

Variance Sought For Sign

Variance for installation of a free plastic sign at intersection of Foothill Blvd. and San Bernardino Rd. east of Upland will be considered by San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors Thursday, Oct. 29 at 2 p.m.

Application for the four by eight ft. sign within a C-1 zone has been made by Valley Neon.

The supervisors meet in board chambers on fifth floor of the Court House, San Bernardino.

The Automobile Club of Southern California advises motorists to remember that outdoor activity increases in warm weather. This presents many distractions for the driver when he should be keeping his eyes on the road and the traffic ahead.

Anti-Hazing Law Cancels Campus Club Initiations

In compliance with a newly enacted state anti-hazing law, Chaffey College has cancelled all informal initiations for Campus Clubs and organizations according to Leonard Mather, dean of student personnel.

While pointing out that "hazing" as such has been banned at Chaffey, Mr. Mather announced the new law changes definition of hazing and broadens it to include, specifically, initiation in student organizations. Hazing includes activitfes which "tend to degrade the individual or make him look ridiculous, as well as those which pose an actual physical danger."

The college will seek to substitute formal initiation ceremonies with emphasis upon honoring new club members, Mr. Mather announced. "Activities such as formal candle or ritual ceremonies, outside speakers, dinner, swim or theatre parties, receptions and service projects will be used in lieu of prankish initiation rites," said Mr. Mather.

The local students were part of a delegation of 10 student leaders and two faculty advisors from Chaffey who met with similar delegations from other junior colleges to compare ideas, attend workshops and discuss student government trends.

Leading the delegation was Ray Sweet president of Chaffey College student body. Among those participating were: Roger Luby, JoAnne Johnston, Ruby Durrington, Allen Staton, John Fine, Linda Baker, Don Atkinson, Peggy MacLaren and Patty Asbill.

Advisors to the group were Leonard S. Mather, Mather, dean of student personnel, and June Teitsworth, associate dean of student personnel.

Beverly Hills Dunks Upland

Upland High School won Class Bee and Cee matches but the varsity water polo squad fell before the highly rated Beverly Hills aqua team last week, 15-3.

"Without a doubt," declared Coach Jim Stewart, mentor of the Upland mermen, "Beverly Hills is the fastest and finest team we have played."

Scoring for Upland were Becker, Chalberg and Callow.

That left local varsity record at a good five victory, two defeat mark.

The Highlanders Class Bee squad nabbed its fifth straight triumph by dunking Beverly Hills 9-4. Smart collected four goals, Kelber three and Bartlett two.

UPLAND GRIDS PLOT TO TRICK POMONA FRIDAY

Another high scoring Tri-County League outfit will host Upland's once defeated Highlanders Friday night, Oct. 30.

Coach Harley Lovitt and his gridders will consider victory over Pomona a Halloween treat if they win, and certainly a trick of considerable consequences.

The fray is scheduled for spacious Mt. San Antonio Stadium with kickoff at 8 p.m.

In other local high school football games this week, the junior varsity hosts Colton at 3 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 29 and the Bees host Pomona at 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 30.

Claremont's Wolfpack gunned off their hot-rod attack last Friday night here toward sixth loop championship in eight years by running down the Highlanders 28-7. The local preps never had a chance to get their license number.

Charles Bentley and Steve Jackson were the Wolfpack teeth in the Highlanders' side throughout the evening as they consistently ground out yards. And it was Bentley who got the 'Pack rolling midway in the first period.

Wolfpack Moves

After Upland had worked their way down to Claremont's 38 from the opening kickoff, the Wolfpack started moving fast with long ground gains and key aerials. With passes from Ray Sevilla to Mike Macklin hitting their mark and Jackson and Bentley grinding off yardage, the 'Pack went to the Highlanders' 12. Bentley swept over on a reverse which completely fooled the Highland eleven.

To make things worse, Claremont's Chip Batchellor blocked a Joe Valadez punt on the 14-yard line which wound up in the end zone with Valadez on top of it. When the dust had cleared, the Wolfpack had a safety.

No Time Wasting

Near end of the half, Kent Dobson again put a spark into Claremont's threat by intercepting a Valadez aerial. It took the 'Pack eight plays to go 49 yards to paydirt.

The third quarter was a seesaw defensive battle. Then Claremont suddenly came to life and pushed their way to Upland's 6. Harold Robertson slanted off tackle for the TD but Dave Rogalia jarred the pigskin loose. The Pack's Dave Browning snagged it over the goal. Sevilla converted.

Come To Life

The Highlanders came to life after the ensuing kickoff. Soph QB Jim Wilcox spearheaded the late show by passing and running his backs down to the Wolfpack 11. Two penalties later, Wilcox passed to Kenny Walker for the locals' lone TD after Walker had made a sit-down catch three inches off the ground when the ball was deflected by a Claremont linebacker. Wilcox converted.

Ancient Indian Find Made At Valle Vista

An ancient Indian arrowhead uncovered last week on grounds of Valle Vista School has become nucleus for the Red Hill Indian Lore Museum, it has been announced by Principal Mrs. Dorothy Hickcox.

The archeological find by a workman landscaping a school terrace east of the buildings was identified as a "projective point" by Dr. Gerald P. Smith, curator of the County Museum at Bloomington, an expert on Indian lore.

He said it was unknown whether the artifact was used for an arrow or a spear.

He added that the present Valle Vista School site had once been an Indian campsite.

Dr. Smith said the artifact could be from 500 to 1000 years old.

Artifact Background

"It was probably made by an Indian of Shoshonic linguistic stock and left at the Valle Vista School campsite hundreds of years later by a Gabriel Inyo affliated with the San Gabriel Mission," the Bloomington curator observed.

"It is one of the most exceptional artifacts of that period I have ever seen," Dr. Smith added, "because of the diagonal flaking and superior craftsmanship." California Indians of that era have never been noted for creative ability.

Curator's Suggestion

In view of this find, Dr. Smith suggested children and school employes remain alert for other artifacts on the school grounds, such as remmants of pottery.

The dramatic find was made Wednesday, Oct. 21 by A.D. Roberson of Baldwin Park while helping landscape the school grounds.

Mr. Roberson graciously turned the artifact over to the school. When Mrs. Smith visited the school Thursday, Oct. 22 and learned of the find, she suggested taking the arrowhead to her husband at Bloomington for expert examination.

Upland College Takes Part In Fine Promotional Chore

Finding the right college to attend usually is a consideration of great importance for high school students.

The problem usually centers around finding a list of colleges, to begin with, and then writing and trying to find comparative figures on enrollment, cost, and what not.

Also finding the right place for industries and individuals to place their gifts and bequests is a problem. Giving to educational institutions is one of the finest ways to pass on to the future our best.

One of the finest promotions we have seen is now available at Upland College. It is a section run by the New York Times on SMALL COLLEGES.

We urge everyone interested in attending a college or aiding colleges to get in touch with Upland College and obtain one of these sections. Additional information may be obtained from any one of the colleges listed, or by writing the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges, Inc., 1616 R. Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

We are proud of Upland College and President John Martin, who is vice president of the council and who had a big hand in developing the section.

In Individual Endeavor Lies Our Strength; Not Handouts By Uncle Sam

Congressman Harry Sheppard said at Upland College this past week that "much of the country" regards Washington, D.C., and the Federal Government as a "perpetual Christmas tree" when it comes to seeking money and help.

He called this an "unfortunate philosophy" and said the object should be to always be as capable of handling your own affairs in a state and community as is possible.

The Congressman said that for every $1 raised from taxpayers in San Bernardino County and sent to Washington, D.C., only 70 cents was in the form of "benefits."

This is a loss of 30 per cent in handling, wastage, and what not.

Yet our Upland city officials, who just returned from San Francisco, and a meeting of the League of California Cities, heard our Governor cry for more federal aid and benefits.

The Congressman deserves support for these views; and he should be aided and bucked up morally for this kind of fight.

The strength of America lies in individualism, and not Washington, D. C., and the federal government.

It's Up To High Schools To Educate At Prep Level

Chaffey College will be limiting its adult educational courses to the college level. They will stop giving courses for high school credit.

This is as it should be, certainly.

If the college devotes all its energies, talent and funds toward bettering its COLLEGE level courses, it has no time for HIGH SCHOOL level teaching.

If someone wants a high school course, the place to go is to the high schools.

New Books For Boys, Girls . . . At Upland Public Library

Instead of holding back for Children's Book Week, Nov. 1 to 7, the new titles which arrive daily, the library is putting them into circulation as soon as they are ready, announces Mrs. Althea Corvell, children's librarian.

Four picture books which will be a joy for both parents and children are IN CAME HORACE by Janet Beattie, THE SKYSCRAPER by Yen Liang, NO ROSES FOR HARRY! by Gene Zion and THE MOON JUMPERS by Janice Udry, who won the Caldecott award in 1958.

Picture books are intriguing but, for excellence, the star will go to non-fiction books for boys and girls from 7 to 10 years of age. The Berlitz School of languages has edited FRENCH FOR CHILDREN and ITALIAN FOR CHILDREN. There have been no books from which young children could begin the study of foreign languages and these books will give tools to teachers and parents who want to help youngsters who are eager to begin lingiistic studies.

The stories of The Three Bears and Little Red Riding Hood are translated into the language and pronunciation given under each line. To make the method even more helpful, we wish that a record could accompany each book.

A BOOK OF SATELLITES FOR YOU by Franklein M. Branley does the impossible when it condenses into a few pages on a third grade reading level the basic facts about satellites and space.

To go from the space age back to the age of dinosaurs seems a mind-streching leap but children make it easily. Very often a boy asks, "Will you please help me find a book on space and one on dinosaurs!" Eunice Holsaert has written DINOSAURS on a third grade level, with this boy in mind.

WHAT MAKES IT GO? by Rose Wyler and Gerald Ames explains the motive power of everything from roller skates to rocket planes. Third graders can read this book also.

Peggy Boehm gives us THE STORY OF SCHOOLS which traces the development of education from ancient times to today. Every page has at least one illustration by Bernard Case and the amount of information included in 47 pages is amazing. Every child in fifth grade and above and every adult should read this story. If there are any boys and girls who go to school reluctantly it will be a sure cure.

THE FIRST BOOK OF WEST GERMANY by Norman Lobsenz and THE FIRST BOOK OF ITALY by Sam and Beryl Epstein are both illustrated by Lili Rethi but the styles of drawing are very different. Children of the fifth grade can read these books but the material is good for junior high school students.

For older boys and girls, three novels should be mentioned. The success of WITCH OF BLACKBIRD POND by Elizabeth Speare, the 1959 Newberry Award winner, evidently made publishers wake up and bring out other books about early New England. WITCH'S SILVER by Dorothy Butters and TOMAHAWK SHADOW by Nancy Faulkner are both more exciting than the prize winning book. They are not of the same literary quality as Mrs. Speare's book but they are lively stories.

DATELINE AT CENTRAL HIGH by Elizabeth Sherman tells about Jane Duffy's junior year when she wanted most of all to be chosen editor of Hi News for the next year. Three boys and Jane's father are extremely important in her life but the one who affected her most was her enemy, Welling Spade, who also wanted the editorship. This is a book which the adults who read junior novels will enjoy.

A book for anyone interested at all in firearms is SAM COLT AND HIS GUN. It is a biography of the man who invented the Colt automatic and Gertrude Hecker Winters has used the material available in a most entertaining manner.

Junior Red Cross Features Upland Chapter Annual Meet

Wheeler K. Stanley and Allen Lynch were unanimously reelected chairman and vice chairman respectively of the Board of Directors at annual meeting of Upland Chapter of American National Red Cross. Mrs. Thomas Ware was elected board secretary and Fred E. Draper will serve as treasurer.

New members of the board are Clinton Thompson and Mmes. Gibson Ellerbeck and Thomas Ware. Other members of the board are L. Cletus Gallagher, Paul Kiszeli, Rex Wignall, Charles M. Smith, J.F. Grass, Mrs. John Nisbet, Richard Manley, Robert Asbill, Harvey Stone, Mrs. Myrta Crilly and W. Stanley Allen.

In Appreciation . . .

Certificates of Appreciation were presented for service on the board to Chairman Stanley, Paul Kiszeli, W. Cletus Gallagher, and Mmes. George Grenier, Crilly and Ellerbeck. Making the presentation was Red Cross Area representative Wally Read.

Theme of the meeting was "Jr. Red Cross." Dr. John H. Martin, director of Junior Red Cross for Los Angeles Chapter of American Red Cross, speaker of the evening, told of the many ways young people can be of service through work in the Junior Red Cross. Local educators, who were guests of the chapter at the meeting, heard Dr. Martin tell that a Jr. Red Cross was idea of educators who met with President Woodrow Wilson in 1917 to set forth their ideas. Dr. Martin called the Jr. Red Cross an "in school intercurricular integrated program."

Today the list of services performed by Jr. Red Cross boxes to children overseas and preparing albums depicting our way of life for children in foreign countries. Performances of children's bands, orchestras and choral groups are taped and sent abroad. Student art is exchanged. Other ways students may serve include assisting adults in the canteen program, driving for the motor service, making needed articles in woodshop and metal classes and sewing and knitting. College students assist with parties for hospitalized veterans, work with bloodmobiles and fund drives. Dr. Martin summed up by saying that the finest program of the Red Cross is Jr. Red Cross because it takes in all Red Cross programs.

Student Experiences . . .

Vice Chairman Lynch introduced David Storm and Miss Patty Hicks, local students, who told of their experiences at the Junior Red Cross Training Center at Riverside this past summer. A letter written from Japan by Mrs. Eleanor W. Taylor, Upland Chapter Executive Secretary, was read by Mr. Stanley. Mrs. Taylor, who is on a three-month tour of Japan, commented on importance of the Red Cross work now being carried on there.

Causing interest and much favorable comment at the meeting was a display of paintings made by students in Japan, Yugoslavia, the United States, Australia, Korea, Greece and Switzerland. The exhibit was part of the Jr. Red Cross International School Art program. Paintings by American children were sent on tour to Europe and Asia and paintings from those lands are exhibited in American schools.

General Chairman . . .

Mrs. Thomas Ware was general chairman of the meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Gibson Ellerbeck Jr., Red Cross chairman, who was in charge of the program, and Mrs. Keith Koehler, who decorated the tables with minature red wooden crosses, small green ivy leaves and Jr. Red Cross posters.

Guests included Fred Stegrist, Pacific Area Junior Red Cross director, the Rev. Paul Goering, who gave the Invocation, Mrs. Warren Wass, area volunteer field consultant; Red Cross representatives from Riverside, March Air Force Base and West San Bernardino County and local Red Cross members.

THE WEEK IN... Ontario

By a decisive 3495-603 margin, voters backed a proposition for Ontario School District to seek a $2 million State loan for district expansion. Projects to be financed in the district include a new junior high school and acquisition of two elementary sites and building plans, according to Supt. Homer Briggs.

Ontario City Council will hold a public hearing at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 3 on a proposed ordinance which would increase city business license fees to cover funds lost by hooding downtown parking meters. The ordinance has been given first reading and requires no hearing. But Mayor Charles R. Latimer preferred to hold a public hearing on the matter.

Ontario City Council has authorized purchase of a third lot on north side of C St. between Lemon and Plum Aves. for the proposed new library building. Two other lots there are already in escrow for purchase by the city.

Hospital In Upland Has Portable X-Ray

San Antonio Community Hospital has a brand new 200 milliampere portable X-ray machine.

Powerful, compact, portable, the unit offers performance equal to the huge three ton stationary equipment in the hospital's X-ray department.

Weighing more than 900 lbs., the unit is equipped with oversize rubber wheels making for convenient and easy movement.

The unit will be used throughout the hospital for patients who can't be moved —in surgery for orthopedic cases to check location of hip nails and bone plates and in most urological surgical procedures.

A development of General Electric Corp., the unit is almost twice as powerful as previous portable units. The tremendous quantity of electrical current used in the new portable made it necessary to provide special electrical wriring in every area of the hospital where the unit might be needed. Southern California Edison Co. has provided a special separate electrical service line and a special transformer to service the new unit.

New Standard Of Graduation

June 1960 is last time a Certificate of Graduation will be offered by Chaffey College, announced Registrar Wesley L. Harmon.

Through this year, a student with graduation requirements complete and a "C" average, was graduated with an Associate in Arts degree, while those without the "C" average did not receive the degree, but did receive a diploma entitled Certificate of Graduation.

Mr. Harmon stated, "any student who is earning below a C average and nearing completion should plan to graduate this year or find himself forced to build his grade point average up to a 2.0".

The new graduation standard is in compliance with standard practices in California Junior Colleges, and now pending before the legislature. Chaffey College will be one of the last schools to abandon the certificate plan.
